HE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE, HER REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE, CIEV. ISSAC COLE, chairman, was read. It takes the ground that intemperance should be discontineanced in every way, and calls on the membership to take strong ground. Dr. Cole chemarked that when they passed a beer saloon they found the keeper with his coat off, and he would pull off his. As chairman of the committee, he had drawn up a report which his colleagues thought was too long to publish, and he read it as an address. After speaking of the effect of alcohol, saying it was a mistake a whip or spur to a horse—a stimulant—but it imparts no strength to the system. It was like a whip or spur to a horse—a stimulant—but the imparts no strength to the system, it was like a whip or spur to a horse—a stimulant—but the imparts no strength to the system, and it makes no bone or muscle. He noticed the effect of diseasing that organ and enlarging it beyond its natural size, and stated that in Scotland a man died for want of bile, and his liver was found to weigh 50 pounds—large enough to give bile for 5 men. There was no vice which would so make its votary a child of hell as intemperance. Dr. Cole closed with numerous quotations frem Scripture on the subject.

quotations frem Scripture on the subject.

Rev. George A. Truett said they should, if possible phace the drinking of Intoxicating liquors under a ban, show that they look on it as a disgraceful habit, and not to allow it to invade the family circle.

Mr. Thomas Jones referred to the appetite for drink as being with some people almost impossible to oversome, noticing the fact that a reformed drunkard came to Congress and afterwards died a miserable wreck of manhood. In view of this fact he thought that our young people should be educated to despise intoxicating liquors.

Smith said his her her was to the subject in the liquors of the said of the liquors.

pie should be educated to despise intoxicating liquors.

Mr. C. B. Smith said his hope was in the Gospel, and he thought the best manner to cure this evil was to convert men to Christ.

Dr. Cole instanced the fact that yesterday—a depart to do honor to one of our greatest generals—he had been told there were more remarks—he had been told there were more retrunks—he had been told there were more retrunks—be had been told there were more retrunks—be had been told there were more before he had been told there were more before performing men than had ever been seen here before peaching the Gospel, and reterred to salons being open on Sunday, judging from the young men about them. They, as ministers, should do their duty and urge citizens to do heir duty to refrain from signing applications for liquor licenses, and see that the law is carried out. His name had been forged to a petition for license.

Mr. Truett asked if there was a local option law here.
Dr. Parker replied that practically we had such a law as a majority of residents and property owners should give their consent before a license is obtained.
Mr. J. R. Bradley referred to the efforts made to curtail the traffic here by a temperance committee, which became disheartened, and he expressed the hope that all the christian community would unite against this traffic.
Dr. Cole thought something should be done in our own churches, for he was sorry to say that some members sell fluour by the gallon.
Mr. Bradley.—And I know one Baptist who sells by the giass.
Rev. Dr. Cole moved that the resolutions adopted at the meeting last year be added to the report.
Mr. Smith urged that four of them only reti-

Mr. Smith urged that four of them only retreated what all knew, and moved that the fifth resolution be added.

Mr. S. S. Taylor called attention to the part drug stores were taking in the spread of intemperance, and remarked upon the ease with which idenses are procured. He referred to cases which had come under his own knowledge. He believed that in a majority of instances the law is not fully compiled with.

Mr. Wm. Stickney said that with others connected with the Y. M. C. A. building. Abner commissioners in reference to the application of Abner, near the Y. M. C. A. building. Abner had secured four signers for his license, and they had four against it, and in conversation with the District Commissioners they had stated that unless tile law is strictly compiled with the cense would not issue. He remarked that it was the duty of every Christian man, when he knows of a violation of the requirements of the law, to make it known. While not he favor of introducing foreign subjects in the Sunday schools, he would offer a resolution recommending to all sunday schools of their denomination in the District that the last Sunday in December the day usually given for a review of the lessons) be devoted to the subject of temperance; adopted.

The Police Station Cells Crowdd with Prisoners Last Night.—The chilly state of the atmosphere last night appears to have been suggestive of hot and exciting drinks, judging from the number of arrests by the police last night up to past midnight, generally on the charge of drunkenness or disorderly conduct. The arrests reported at the central station were about fifty in number, and liquor was the cause in every instance. Among the inmates of the cells were some strangers who came to witness the unveiling ceremonies: a few of these had on military uniforms, and others came here with civilian organizations. In most cases they were locked up until sober, and turned out again to make room for others. A fight took place in one of the cells between a drunken sailor and a Washington loater, locked up for disorderly conduct, in which both got pretty well punished before they could be separated and put into different cells. Cross charges were made, charging assault and battery. The crowded state of the cells compelled the station keeper to make use of the lodgers' cells for prisoners, and the lodgers had to be sent to other station houses. Altogether, things were very lively and Pandemonium reigned until the fumes of beazine and fatigue had the effect of closing the cyclids of the direction only. As nothing could be proven against the parties they were turned out this morning.
